Agents 'Punished' For Raid

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Illinois man roused from bed by narcotics agents raiding the wrong house says suspension of the agents is like giving them a vacation because "they're still being paid."

"They've got to put a stop to this and not let it happen to other people," said Herbert Giglotto of Collinsville, Ill., after he was told of the suspension on Tuesday of four federal narcotics agents.

The agents, aided by 11 others from local police, last week mistakenly raided the Giglotto home and that of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Askew. Giglotto and his wife said they were subjected to physical and verbal abuse and had property damaged.

The Askews have filed a $100,000 damage suit.

Suspension of the federal agents was announced by Myles J. Ambrose, the nation's chief drug law enforcer, who said he also was seeking a grand jury investigation. The four agents were not named.

"I have said before that people who use their badge to violate other people's constitutional rights are worse than criminals," said Ambrose. "I have absolutely no intention of whitewashing or absolving them."

The agents, he said, were suspended with pay.

President Realigns Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seeking to put his White House in order, President Nixon has assigned Vice President Spiro T. Agnew an expanded role in the formulation of domestic policy, it was learned today.

At an hour-long meeting Tuesday, Nixon assigned Agnew to a new position as vice chairman of the Domestic Council at the White House.

Although this will involve the vice president more deeply in policy deliberations on the domestic front, sources said he was in no way taking on the functions of John D. Ehrlichman, domestic policy assistant who resigned Monday.

Part of Agnew's new duties, it was said, would involve liaison work with governors and local officials, putting him back in a field from which he was removed in Nixon's second term reorganization.

A restructuring of the White House staff, made necessary by the resignations of Ehrlichman and chief of staff H.R. Haldeman, was the subject of presidential discussions Tuesday with Agnew and at a 30-minute Cabinet meeting.

It was also reported that Stephen B. Bull, assistant to the President, has taken on added duties in short-term scheduling and paper flow. It is not considered likely that he will replace Haldeman—but rather that the chief of staff's duties may be taken over in part by the Office of Management and Budget.

Haldeman and Ehrlichman were seen leaving the White House Tuesday carrying stacks of documents, even as the FBI mounted a 'round-the-clock guard in offices containing Watergate-related files.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the guard was posted "to physically protect the files to make sure that access and removal of any files were supervised in accordance with very strict procedure." He said FBI agents checked everything removed by the two resigned aides.

White House sources said that before Haldeman and Ehrlichman resigned, they inspected government files, seeking documentation for their claims of innocence. The search apparently resulted from news accounts that fired presidential Counsel John W. Dean III was prepared to give investigators documents relating to an alleged White House coverup of Watergate.

Meanwhile, The New York Times today quoted sources as saying six former high-level figures are expected to be indicted in connection with the alleged coverup.

The Times identified the six as Haldeman, Ehrlichman, Dean, former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, deputy Nixon campaign director Jeb Stuart Magruder, and Frederick C. LaRue, a special assistant to Mitchell when the latter was Nixon's campaign chief.

It was learned the special Senate committee on Watergate is considering granting immunity from prosecution to both Dean and Magruder, who reportedly knew in advance of plans to wiretap the Democratic party headquarters in the Watergate building.

Magruder refused Tuesday to give pretrial testimony in the Democrats' lawsuit over Watergate and his lawyer said it was because the Watergate grand jury is expected to return indictments.

In his speech on Watergate Monday, President Nixon said he had given Atty. Gen.-designate Elliot L. Richardson authority to name a special prosecutor in the affair.

The Senate, on a voice vote with only a handful of members present Tuesday, urged the President to do just that. A later move by Republicans to reconsider the vote—on grounds that it was an expression of no-confidence in the President—failed.

In other developments:

—White House Press Secretary Ziegler publicly apologized to The Washington Post for harsh statements he made against the newspaper for its intensive investigation of Watergate. "I was over-enthusiastic in my comments ...," he said. "When we're wrong, we're wrong. I was in that case."

—The federal grand jury on Watergate heard from "a very important witness," assistant prosecutor Seymour Glander said. Other Justice Department sources said indictments in the case are not imminent.

—Former Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said that, if President Nixon were involved in Watergate, he would prefer not to hear about it. "I am totally confident the President just would not be involved in any way in this kind of operation," Laird told reporters in Washington. "But, if he were, it would be very bad for the country—that kind of disclosure."

—Republican Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina told a news conference that he believes Nixon had no advance knowledge of the break-in and bugging of Democratic headquarters. But, he added, "If the President was part of a conspiracy of that kind, then I could see where impeachment proceedings would be brought."

—Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, who handed in his resignation Monday on grounds several friends may be implicated in Watergate, told a Law Day audience in Washington that Americans should not despair, because "we are a country of law ... and the law works its will."

—Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., chairman of the Senate committee probing Watergate, complimented Nixon for facing up publicly to the scandal of the case.

Disclosures Cloud Ellsberg

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Defense attorneys in the Pentagon papers trial, accusing former presidential adviser John D. Ehrlichman of trying to bribe the trial judge, have demanded that any Watergate or White House links to the trial be made public.

U.S. District Court Judge Matt Byrne, rejected on Tuesday a government request to keep from the press further developments in a continuing court-ordered probe. He said he would make public any documents relevant to the trial.

Attorneys for Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony J. Russo asked for dismissal of the indictments against them after the government revealed that Ehrlichman knew two Watergate conspirators had burglarized the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist in 1971.

The defense also cited an Ehrlichman contact with Byrne on April 5 at the Western White House where Byrne said earlier he was told he was in line for a high "future assignment in government," reportedly the directorship of the FBI.

Although Byrne said he had refused to consider any offer until after the trial, the defense motion called it "possibly an attempt to offer a bribe to the court—an attempt made in the virtual presence of the President of the United States which was frustrated only because the judge refused to listen to the offer."

Ellsberg and Russo are charged with espionage, conspiracy and theft in the copying of the secret Pentagon study of the Vietnam war, which Ellsberg subsequently leaked to the press in 1971.

Arguing against a secrecy rule, defense attorney Leonard Boudin said the court's probe of Watergate connections had been aided by publicity.

He cited a published story in the Washington Evening StarNews as saying one of the Watergate conspirators billed the White House for four hours' work the day of the break-in at Ellsberg's psychiatrist's office.

The story said Watergate prosecutors have airline tickets showing two of the conspirators were in Los Angeles at the time of the break-in.

He contended the newspapers are disclosing relevant facts in more detail than the government.

The disclosure spurred the judge to announce he would not allow the case to go to the jury until all White House and Watergate links are investigated and analyzed. He held the dismissal motion under consideration.

The latest disclosures came in an FBI memo about an interview with Ehrlichman last Friday, in which the White House aide said he had been asked by President Nixon to make an independent investigation of the Pentagon papers leak to news media.

Ehrlichman said in the interview that Watergate conspirators G. Gordon Liddy and E. Howard Hunt Jr., were hired for the job. He said he knew that the two were trying to produce a "psychiatric profile" of Ellsberg, seeking to show that Ellsberg had "emotional and moral problems."

Ehrlichman said he knew Hunt and Liddy were making trips to the West Coast to develop this profile. But he said he was not told of the break-in at the psychiatrist's office until afterwards.

When he learned of the burglary, the report said, Ehrlichman told Hunt and Liddy "not to do this again." The report said Ehrlichman doesn't know whether anything was obtained from the Beverly Hills office of Dr. Lewis Fielding. He gave no information on whether such psychiatric records were used in prosecution of Ellsberg.

Ellsberg's chief attorney, Leonard Boudin, told the judge: "I have never seen such misbehavior on the part of the government before.... We are dealing with the highest authority in the United States, the President and his ...

trusted subordinates in whom he still has confidence."

Byrne, sombre and speaking with deliberation said, "I intend to get the full story. I intend to get to the bottom of this. I want to find out if we're talking about one burglary. I want to find out what we are talking about. This case is not going to any jury until I have the opportunity to analyze all actions involved."

Ellsberg was first indicted in June 1971, two months before his psychiatrist's office was burglarized. The court probe seeks to find out whether the burglary provided "tainted evidence" for the trial.

Code Of Ethics Faces Showdown Vote In House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A floor fight was inevitable, but sponsors of an embattled code of ethics bill predicted its passage today in the House.

The bill by Rep. Patrick A. Sweeney, D-6 Cleveland, and others would require all elected and many appointed officials to disclose their sources of income and otherwise answer to a nonpartisan agency with regard to their financial holdings.

It had bi-partisan backing after Rep. Charles E. Fry, R-72 Springfield, joined with Sweeney in the State Government Committee to work out a series of compromises.

Fry said Tuesday night he will offer one major floor amendment—the same as one he had rejected in the committee. It would authorize public officials who also are attorneys to practice before state agencies under certain circumstances. He called the committee version "over strict. They couldn't even file a corporation paper."

But, he said, "Even if my amendment is defeated and the bill passed, we still would have one of the most far-reaching laws on ethics and conflict of interest in the nation."

Democratic Gov. John Gilligan also announced his support of the legislation, although he said it was considerably weaker than he would like.

Gilligan asked that the elected officials, like those in his executive department, be required to disclose the dollar amounts as well as the sources of their income.

The bill sets up a six-member ethics commission, three from each political party, to receive disclosure statements annually, investigate complaints, initiate investigations, and remove officials from office if deemed necessary.

A similar bill got through the House two years ago, but was killed in the Senate. Some lawmakers said they found it distasteful, a needless invasion of privacy, and one that would discourage private citizens from wanting to seek public office.

The lawmakers returned to their respective chambers Tuesday after a spring vacation that started April 18 after the House passed the administration's $9.9 billion budget bill. Senate Finance Chairman Max Baucus, R-10 Wilmington, began hearings Tuesday night on the bill making state appropriations for two years starting July 1.

Three proposals were passed in each chamber during brief floor sessions. Anthony J. Russo, 50-year-old Cleveland Democrat who formerly served eight years in the House, was sworn in as a member from the 17th House District, succeeding the late Leonard Ostrovsky.

The Senate passed 29-2 and sent to the House a proposed constitutional resolution to equalize the pay of members of the same public agencies. Sen. Walter L. White, R-12 Lima, said present law prohibits them from receiving raises during their terms and results in some officials being paid less for the same work.

White called the present law "unjust and inequitable," and pointed out that half the Senate currently is being paid $12,750 a year and the other half $14,000 as a result of its provisions. Under the proposal, senators who serve four-year terms could qualify for increases in the next biennium instead of having to wait until after their re-election at the end of four years.

Also passed and sent to the lower chamber were bills setting a uniform debt limit for municipalities and allowing county auditors to claim tax-delinquent property valued under $1,000 and sell it for back taxes instead of meeting present requirements for placing it on delinquent property tax lists.

Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, won Senate approval of the measure that would set 5½ per cent of a municipality's property valuation as its unvoted debt limit. The bill authorizes municipalities backing bonds with city income tax revenues to exclude them from the limit, Maloney said.

In the House, members approved and sent to the Senate a bill that would allow county commissioners to increase dog and kennel license fees for the improvement of county dog control programs. The bill sets a ceiling of $4.50 for dogs and $22.50 for kennels, and retains provisions as to how the revenues will be allocated.

GRANTED, the weather has been miserable for farmers, gardeners, golfers and fishermen. But consider the year 1816 in Southern Ohio. It snowed on April 12, again on April 22. There was a heavy freeze on May 29, hard enough to freeze the mud, which there seemed to be in abundance. On July 6 it snowed. There was a frost on Aug. 24 and eight inches of snow Oct. 16. This information was from a dairy of an Ohio resident at the time. It came to us third or fourth handed from Dr. E. L. Montgomery.

McCall Plan Rejected

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Voters rejected Tuesday Gov. Tom McCall's plan to provide residential property tax relief by having the state pay 95 per cent of the school costs.

Circleville Council Rezones Corwin Street Area

Circleville Council Tuesday acted to rezone an area on East Corwin Street opposite Bowling Stock Yards Co. in spite of divided feelings about the action by area residents.

Under an old zoning code the area had been industrial. When the present zoning ordinance was enacted, the area was changed to residential. Owners of the properties involved, Bowling Stock Yard, Robert J. Mathews, Charles Rutter and Jack Wise, requested the zoning classification be changed to light industry. Spokesman for the property owners requesting the change was Robert Huffer, attorney.

The rezoning was approved by the Circleville Planning and Zoning commission. Robert Jones Sr. 328 E. Ohio St., was the main spokesman for the residents opposing the rezoning. Roy Waliza, 335 E. Ohio St., also objected at first, but when he learned what industry was to be constructed on a part of the area and of the controls over other industry that could be built there, he withdrew his objection.

Also objecting was M. M. Congrove, 575 Renick Ave., who stated his objection was not to the industry that was planning to build but to other industry that might be allowed in the area.

Robert J. Mathews, who operates a veterinarian and livestock drug supply house is requesting the rezoning. He stated his present building on East Corwin Street is not satisfactory for his needs, and that he hoped to purchase a part of the land in question to construct a new building.

One of the main objections voiced last night was that livestock trucks are parked on the land which is now vacant. Residents also feared the stock yards might expand to include some of the area but it was pointed out by Huffer this was not possible under the present zoning ordinance.

Fourth Ward Councilman Gladden Troutman urged his fellow solons to consider the feelings of those opposing the action and to vote no.

Second Ward Councilman Robert Kenworthy and Troutman cast the only two negative votes. Councilmen at Large David Crawford, and Keith Wagner, First Ward Councilman David Goldschmidt and Third Ward Councilman Harold Hoffman voted for the rezoning.

Ordinances to accept a storm sewer right of way easement in Valhalla Subdivision and a plat of the subdivision were held for a third reading. The subdivision is located just off North Pickaway Street at Hargus Creek.

An ordinance appropriating $5,920 to pay interest on a $200,000 loan to the city and an ordinance to renew the note for one year at a rate of 3.98 interest were approved. The money was borrowed for detailed engineering and site preparation for the proposed sewerage treatment plant.

Charles Taylor, director of public utilities, said the money will be repaid when the federal loan for the new sewerage treatment plant is available. The city is now awaiting approval of the plant site and engineering by the Federal Environmental Protection Agency.

An ordinance to accept a storm sewer easement through lot 10 of Walnut Creek Estates, subdivision plat No. 1, was held for a second reading. Kenworthy objected to passing the ordinance last night because members of council had no opportunity to view the site or study the ordinance prior to the meeting.

Director of Public Service Atwood Jones explained the need for the storm sewer easement to council members. The area will eventually be drained by a storm sewer to be built by developers of the area and will drain north and west toward County Road 511.

Not present at last night's meeting was councilman at Large Ben Gordon who recently underwent surgery.

Council Clerk Robert Shadley noted that city auditor Marvine Turner is in Mt. Carmel Hospital and that it would be appropriate for council to send a card.

In addition to the clerk, six council members, those present at council meeting included president Joe Bell, Mayor Frank Barnhill, who reported on the cleanup campaign, and city attorney William Stevens. The next regular council meeting is May 15.

The manner in which "The Crucible" was written eliminates any minor roles. Every character is important to the development of the plot.

Lucy Hosterman is one of the new actors making their debut here in this production. Lucy comes from Columbia, Tenn., where she participated in high school dramatics and community theatre. When a senior in high school, Lucy took first place in the statewide acting competition for her role in "Riders To The Sea."

Lucy has a bachelor degree from Lake Erie College and a masters degree in child development from Ohio State University. While at Lake Erie, she had the leading role in a production of "Anne Frank." Since coming to Circleville eight years ago, Lucy has taught pre-school at St. Phillips and remedial reading at Washington Twp. school.

Lucy's husband Charlie has appeared in the Players' productions of "Barefoot in the Park" and "Sleeping Beauty." He also has a role in "The Crucible." The Hostermans and their two children reside at 665 Ridgewood Drive.

Lucy portrays the character of Mary Warren, a shy 18-year-old girl who becomes John Proctor's only hope of salvation, but she condemns him.

Scott Wilson portrays Rev. Parris, the town minister. This is a very heavy role for Scott, who until now has appeared mainly in musicals. Scott's vocal talents will be remembered by those who saw him as Freddy Eynsford-Hill in "My Fair Lady."

Scott recently graduated from Ohio State, where he majored in music education. He plans to begin teaching music in the fall.

Scott says of Rev. Parris, "He is a very disagreeable character... I really don't like him."

Bill Robertson is a willing worker who has been indispensable to Roundtown Players. He is usually helping backstage and only occasionally comes "out front" to do some acting. He held minor roles in "My Fair Lady" and "Jack and the Giant."

In "The Crucible" Bill portrays Francis Nurse, a very old man whose wife Rebecca is accused of witchcraft.

Bill is originally from Toledo and works with Greif Brothers in Zanesville. He holds a four-year degree from OSU. Bill and his wife Marcia reside in a lovely farm home on Route 188.

Describing his character in the drama, Bill says that Francis is "a man who has found his world falling around him, yet is still trying to remain in charge of the situation."

Phil Funk may be playing his last role for Roundtown Players with this production. Phil recently graduated from Franklin University and he and his wife have moved to Columbus where Phil has a job as an accountant at Cardinal Industries.

Before coming to the Players, Phil had no experience in theatre. He was persuaded by Diane Berger to try out for a role in "Sleeping Beauty" and since that production has never stopped participating.

He had a small—but very memorable—role in "My Fair Lady," and a larger role in "Jack and the

All-Volunteer Force Hurting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office estimates the new all-volunteer military will fall short of manpower goals unless it hires more civilians, recruits more women and lowers its intelligence standards.

A GAO report says the military next year could fall 11,000 to 83,000 short of its goal of 345,000 new recruits—primarily for the Army and Marines—under present mental-ability levels and high school graduate quotas.

The GAO analysis, based on GI volunteer trends in past years, was prepared for delivery today to the House military-manpower subcommittee.

It said the military could compete with the civilian labor force for 433,000 to 580,000 women a year, but only plans to recruit 36,700 women a year by 1977.

"It is apparent," the GAO report said, "that much greater potential exists to use women in uniform."

The report also said the Pentagon has decided to turn some 35,000 military jobs over to civilians next year instead of 70,000.

"Here again," the report said, "significant additional potential exists."

The GAO also suggested the military could attract into uniform civilians with especially needed military skills by signing them up at higher rank rather than enlisting them as recruits.

The report predicted the Army and Marines, with their present high school and intelligence standards, would have the greatest trouble in getting enough recruits for the new all-volunteer military. The Navy will have some trouble and the Air Force will have none, the report said.

Order Limits Piqua Pickets

PIQUA, Ohio (AP) — Striking municipal employees were ordered Tuesday to limit their picketing in a contract dispute with the city of Piqua.

Miami County Common Pleas Court Judge John Kistler Tuesday issued an order that barred picketing at the city's water and power plants. Kistler also said that no more than three pickets were allowed at other sites.

City Manager Wayne Barfels sought the restraining order after 109 city employees walked off the job Tuesday morning when their contract expired.

The employees work in the city's water, sewage, garbage, streets and park department and at the town's power plant. Police and firemen are not involved in the strike.

No talks between the Piqua chapter of the Dayton Public Service Union and the city have been scheduled.

Prison Strike Said Flop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Corrections officials said a survey of the state's eight prisons showed no major participation Tuesday in a planned, one-day strike in support of the newly-organized Ohio Prisoners Labor Union.

A corrections department spokesman said the survey did not uncover any strikes at the institutions. However, he added, there might have been limited participation by some inmates.

Union leaders said they had planned the strike to show the organization's strength. The union claims to represent 6,000 of Ohio's 9,000 inmates. A spokesman for the union said the group seeks to get decent wages for the work performed by prisoners.

Meanwhile, officials in the governor's office said they do not have a policy concerning prison work unions, but indicated they would make a decision as soon as they had more information.

Twister Kills 2 In Storm-Racked Central States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy thunderstorms struck the middle and lower Mississippi Valley early today with intense rain and tornadoes that racked the central states and left two dead and many injured.

Several tornadoes lashed at parts of Missouri, Arkansas, Iowa and Illinois Tuesday night.

Two persons were killed at Kahoka in northeast Missouri. Eight mobile homes were smashed, and several other trailer homes and houses were damaged. Eighteen persons were reported injured.

Telephone and electric service was cut off at Kahoka, a town of 2,200.

An extensive mass of thunderstorms spread from the Mississippi Valley into Kentucky and Tennessee. Flash-flood watches were issued for parts of Tennessee, Kentucky, Illinois and southwestern Wisconsin.

Rains at Rockford, Ill., Tuesday night dumped almost 1 1/2 inches into the Rock River valley, where flooding already has been severe. Nearly an inch fell at Cairo in 17 minutes, according to the National Weather Service.

Scattered snow remains over the central Rockies, and showers dampened parts of the northeast.

Freezing temperatures were recorded in many places in the Rockies. Readings dipped into the 30s over the Plains from Nebraska to North Dakota.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 26 at Laramie, Wyo., to 79 at McAllen, Tex.

Heavy rains Tuesday in northern Missouri, Iowa and Illinois threatened increased flooding downriver today along the still-swollen but receding Mississippi River.

Predictions of more rainfall and higher tides in the Gulf of Mexico also added to flooding problems in Louisiana.

John Connally Jumps Fence To Republicans

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — John B. Connally, President Nixon's former secretary of the Treasury, announced today he is switching from the Democratic to the Republican party.

A prepared text to be read at a news conference scheduled for noon EDT made no specific reference, however, to Connally's own political plans for the future.

Connally, a political protege of the late President Lyndon B. Johnson, now is regarded as a potential contender for the 1976 Republican presidential nomination.

In advance of a news conference in Houston, Tex., Connally telephoned friends and associates in Washington to tell them of his switch.

There has been speculation in Washington that the President might ask Connally to help fill the vacuum created by the resignations Monday of White House aides H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, the New York Times said.

The Los Angeles Times said the switch will clear the way for Connally to make a bid for the GOP presidential nomination in 1976. Connally has not announced such intentions.

Connally is a former Democratic governor of Texas. He was chairman of Democrats for Nixon during the 1972 presidential campaign.

Nixon said at a Jan. 31 news conference that Connally, who served in the Treasury post for a year and a half, "could handle any job that I can think of in this country, or in the world for that matter."

The Washington Post said it had been told by a White House aide that by joining the Republican party at a moment of crisis, "Connally comes on like the U.S. cavalry riding to the rescue in the last scene."

Connally has been an outspoken ally of Nixon since he began serving the President in various advisory posts following the '68 election. He became secretary of the Treasury in mid-December 1970.

A NATIONAL GENERAL PICTURES RELEASE

At St. Louis, the river district office of the National Weather Service was preparing new crest forecasts today for the Mississippi. The forecasts are based on rainfall reports.

Eleven deaths have been reported since the floods began and an estimated 11 million acres in seven states—much of it prime farmland—are still under water. The Mississippi River Commission estimates damage thus far in the seven states declared disaster areas at more than $322 million. The seven states are Arkansas, Louisiana, Wisconsin, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois and Mississippi.

North of St. Louis, the Corps of Army Engineers predicted that the river would crest a fourth time this spring and reach 25-foot levels Thursday at Hannibal, Mo., and Quincy, Ill.

The river stood at 23.8 feet Tuesday at Hannibal, where flood stage is 16 feet. At Quincy, where flood stage is 17 feet, the river level was 23.4 feet.

A river district spokesman said Tuesday night that he could not yet tell if the one to three inches of rain dumped on Iowa and Illinois Tuesday would push the rivers over record crests set last week.

A Page Of Opinion

Older Job Seekers

Attention is directed frequently to the plight of the unemployed teenager, the troubles he is likely to get into, the reasons for his unemployment, and what can be done to get him into the productive stream of society.

It is true the school dropout has a serious problem in obtaining employment. Unemployed teenagers compose a higher percentage of their age group than do the unemployed of any other segment of the population.

But they have one advantage—their youth. There is yet time in their young lives to correct the deficiencies preventing them from finding a useful life. But what about the workers at the other end of the age spectrum who find themselves displaced by technological advancements?

What about those who find themselves the victims of a declining industry at 50? These men possess few skills sought by new growth industries.

The problem of the displaced older worker will not be made easier by the influx of the tide of young people soon to converge on the employment scene. Years of experience in an obsolete skill do not compare favorably with the vigor and higher education of youth.

The spotlight of concern is moving to the problems of the worker with years of experience in a dwindling field.

Unity And Moslem Oil

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Henry Kissinger, with a bid to become the George Marshall of the day, has urged a new Atlantic Charter on the "West" — the "West" being generic shorthand for a group of trading nations that has come to include our Japanese converts to democratic principles. But let us not kid ourselves: the new problems facing the "West" are far more intricate than anything that the bombed-out, burnt-out West European survivors of World War II had to solve. Then it was merely a matter of matching money to talents in order to face the slowly-growing Cold War threat from the East. We had a common enemy in Joe Stalin, and he refused to let us forget it.

Today, the "democracies" are half in love with what the East accepts, or is willing to promise. The idea of the "Finlandization" of Western Europe stirs every time Senator Mike Mansfield suggests the U.S. bring its soldiers home; it lurks behind Willy Brandt's Ostpolitik, and it is there at one remove when France, cozying up to the Arab countries, tacitly endorses the Soviet line toward Israel.

A Kissinger "cure" demands a sense of common destiny, and a willingness to concert domestic economic policies in a united war against the inflation that has been raging ever since the "West" adopted the Keynesian line on full employment at any price. No doubt Western Europe, Japan and the United States could reach an accommodation that would be equivalent to what Kissinger has called "a fresh act of creation" if their rates of inflation were only uniform. But the energy demands of the U.S., which are so much greater than anything that Western Europe requires, will entail tremendous balance of payments deficits in future years.

President Nixon has been advised that our oil bill to the Arab countries will jump to $25 or $30 billion a year within a decade. How can there be lasting monetary alliances at such a rate of balance of payment discommodation? Is Western Europe going to support the dollar forever?

True enough, Western Europe is more dependent at this moment on the Middle East for energy than we are. But this does not favor us when it comes to trying to concert our policies vis-a-vis Israel. We sell Phantoms to the Israelis; the French sell Mirages to Libya, and Libya promises military aid to Egypt. Thus the Middle Eastern problems multiply for Secretary of State Rogers.

By any rational consideration the energy-consuming West ought to be making a common front when dealing with the Middle Eastern oil-producing countries. The Arabs have what the "West," including Japan, needs. But, with their sterile deserts; they are not self-sufficient countries; they depend on their oil customers for Mirage planes, Cadillac cars, and Western wheat. Moreover, the politics of the Arabs are not the politics of non-Arabic Iran, which means that a wedge might be driven between the oil-producing lands.

The U.S. would have more diplomatic muscle if it could only lessen its own growing dependence on Middle Eastern oil. Kissinger would have a much better chance of producing an Atlantic Charter situation if he could guarantee that Western oil would flow to Europe should any Arab-Israeli war sever the energy lifelines to the East. But we dawdle about bringing the North Slope Alaska field into production. If the ecologists are right about the danger of building a pipeline across Alaska to the Pacific port of Valdez in an earthquake-prone region.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

On May 8, we the voters of Madison Twp., will be asked to vote for emergency protection for our township. I think there should be a yes vote for we need this protection very much.

I think it should also be mentioned that if this is not passed our fire protection will be cancelled within 90 days. Think what this could mean to us and also what might happen to our insurance rates.

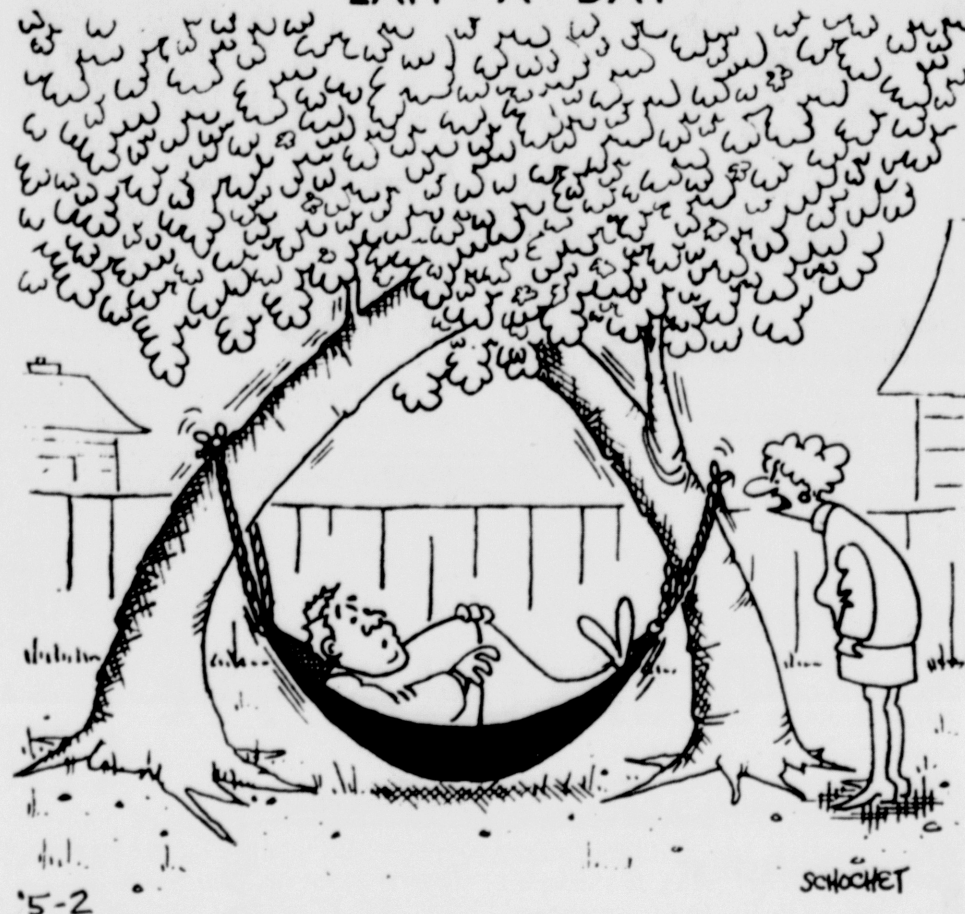

So let's all vote for our emergency protection and our continued fire protection.

Thank you very much.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My husband takes tranquilizers as if they were aspirin. He says it's the only way he can get through the tension of a day's work.

Is it possible to become addicted to them?

Mrs. N.N., Ga.

Dear Mrs. N.:

Tranquilizing drugs can truly be classed with other wonder drugs discovered in the last 25 years.

Most of them contain a chemical, chlorpromazine, which is derived from a root plant Rauwolfia.

Originally the drug was used to reduce high blood pressure. When it was found that it could control irritability, anxiety, and nervousness, the drug virtually "exploded" on the open market.

These drugs are remarkably effective when used in moderation. Unfortunately, a great many people falsely believe that tranquilizers can help solve all of their emotional problems and stresses. Herein lies a great danger.

People like your husband resort to more and more doses of the tranquilizing drugs without coming face to face with the fact that they need some psychological support for their inner tensions.

"Addiction" is really not the word to use to refer to this type of dependency. There is not the same kind of physiological craving associated with other drugs, like heroine or cocaine.

Certainly, your husband's dependency can be modified or eliminated with a better understanding of his basic emotional problems. I want to add another word of warning to all people who take tranquilizers in any form or any amount.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Neither of our kids turned out to be a lawyer — which is surprising, considering the fact that they spent their childhood drawing up formidable-sounding legal documents.

When they were feeling friendly they would prepare elaborate wills, leaving one another all their carefully hoarded possessions, ranging from a butterfly impaled in a cigar box to a half-eaten lollipop.

But following an argument they would withdraw the largesse with nastily worded codicils.

Not all their legal papers dealt with the eventual disposition of personal property. Some were geared to the here and now.

We had only one television set and each child was entitled to pick half the programs for their allotted joint viewing time, so a trade-off in this department was common. The party of the first part would guarantee certain advantages — either material or spiritual — to the party of the second part in exchange for TV privileges.

Since Gay was too young to cross the street alone she was dependent on her older brother to take her to the ten-cent store. He generally offered this service as an inducement, rather than resorting to money or durable goods for barter.

The family archives hold this example of one of the formal agreements executed between 6-year-old Gay and 11-year-old Brenn:

"Gay agrees to: (a) Let Brenn see his baseball game from 8:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 23.

Brenn agrees to: (a) Let Gay see any program up to 8:30 p.m., same date; (b) Take Gay to the stores Sat., Aug. 24; (c) play 'Rock breaks scissors' twice with Gay; (d) Let Gay read his comic books."

Merchandise ownership was also transferred via unbreakable contracts

Reflex actions are markedly reduced by them. A sense of fatigue, tiredness, and even sleepiness may make driving an automobile extremely hazardous.

Antihistamine, or anti-allergy, drugs can cause drowsiness, too, and diminish reflex actions.

People who work with power tools, drill presses or saws must be exceedingly careful if they are using any of these drugs.

Combinations of drugs are always unpredictable in their effect on some people. Combinations of drugs with tranquilizers are particularly dangerous.

Tranquilizers and alcohol, as most people now know, can be a risk to life itself.

A good rule of safety is to remember that drugs are prescribed in special amounts, for a limited time only. Rarely does a doctor prescribe a drug for indefinite use.

Your husband's doctor must be told about his dependency on tranquilizers. With psychological support, the drug can probably be eliminated.

What tests are done before an operation to be sure that a child is not a bleeder?

Mrs. E.L.M., Tex.

Dear Mrs. M.:

When there is any suspicion that a person has a bleeding tendency, special tests are performed. Tests for bleeding time, coagulation time, and clotting time, along with many other microscopic studies, can uncover the cause for such a problem. These tests are not routinely necessary in the absence of a personal or family history of bleeding.

such as this, duly signed and sealed at ages 8 and 13:

"Trade agreement enacted this 14th day of May:

Brenn, has given to Gay one pennant, the description of which follows.

A red pennant, large, bearing the word OKLAHOMA in large capital letters. Underneath these letters is "The Sooner State" in smaller capitals, and on the far left is a map of the state. Length, approximately 27 inches.

Gay has given to Brenn two pennants. Descriptions follow.

1. A small blue pennant with the lettering MOHAWK TRAIL and under that MASS. on it, and a picture of an Indian at the left. Length, about nine inches.

2. A small purple pennant, with the letters PETRIFIED CREATURES on it. Underneath that, Warren, N.Y. It has a picture of a dinosaur at the left.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Should Not Hurt Cheek-To-Cheek

DEAR ABBY: Would you advise a husband and wife to work together every day? My husband is opening a new business and a lot of people have told me we might get tired of each other if we're together all day and all night. We get along very well.

I am a bookkeeper and receptionist so it's not like we'd be elbow-to-elbow all day long.

CONSIDERING IT

DEAR CONSIDERING: If you get along well together, and aren't elbow-to-elbow all day long, there's no reason why it shouldn't work out. Some married couples who are nose-to-nose all day enjoy being cheek-to-cheek all night, while others who are apart all day would be happier apart all night, too.

DEAR ABBY: This is my opinion of your answer to the mother of the married daughter with five children. "Mother" said her daughter's husband earns a very modest living, can't feed and clothe his family properly, and can't pay his bills. "Mother" was upset because her husband refused to help out because their son in law gives 10 per cent of all his earnings to his church.

Your answer was typical of the over-zealous religious fanatic. You said, "Surely you can't fault a man for honoring a commitment to the church!"

Why not? The son in law obviously thinks more of his church than he thinks of his family.

To top it off, you advised "Mother" to go against her husband's wishes and "dip into the sugar bowl" and help this family anyway.

I sure hope the father in law wrote and told you where to get off.

NAUSEATED IN CINCINNATI

DEAR NAUSEATED: He didn't. But quite a few others did, and I had it coming. Many readers pointed out that a man's first obligation is to his family, and if he can't support them adequately, (not luxuriously, but adequately) he should offer his personal services to the church in lieu of money. (Now, why didn't I think of that? I'll take 10 lashes with an old prayer shawl.)

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend called this morning and said, "If I asked you to marry me last night, I must have been stoned."

How would you have answered him?

MARY BETH

DEAR MARY BETH: I'd have said, "And if I said 'Yes, I must have been crazy.'"

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A. Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope please.

Gallia County Slaying Eyed

EUREKA, Ohio (AP) — Gallia County authorities today investigated the robbery-slaying of Kenny Wray, proprietor of a small general store south of this tiny Ohio River community.

Sheriff's deputies said they found Wray lying on a wooden board floor and the store's cash register empty. Time of death was placed at about 9 p.m.

"I walked in and found Kenny in a puddle of blood," said William Jones, who called police to the scene. "At first I thought he was wearing a mask ... Kenny was always fooling around and pulling jokes."

Deputies said Wray was shot through the head, apparently at close range.

"He was known to everyone in the area," Jones said of Wray, who lived in a back room of the shanty establishment. "He was just good old Kenny to everyone around here."

Conserve Gasoline, Morton Urges

WASHINGTON AP — Secretary of the Interior Rogers C.B. Morton has urged Americans to start conserving gasoline if they want to avoid shortages this summer.

Morton did not directly mention the possibility of gasoline rationing, but warned shortages could affect "the freedom of choice of our citizens."

In a statement issued from his office, Morton urged that Americans save gasoline by driving their cars only when necessary, planning vacations and camping trips closer to home, slowing down on highways and limiting the use of auto air-conditioners and other powered equipment.

In a separate statement prepared for presentation to the Senate Interior Committee, Morton said, "the margin between experiencing energy shortages and not experiencing energy shortages is very small."

"For this summer," he said, "only a one or two per cent reduction in gasoline consumption could make a difference."

Red Cross Plans

Program For

VA Out-Patients

Personnel from Chillicothe VA Hospital met with veterans who live in homes in Pickaway County and their sponsors on Friday at the American Legion Post to complete plans for the weekly program being arranged for the men.

The first of the sessions is planned May 9 from 1:30 to 3:30 at the Legion. The program will include group singing, recreation, arts and crafts and bingo. Opportunity for cards, checkers or just visiting will be available.

As the program advances, there will be need for volunteers and assistance from many community agencies. Volunteers will be co-ordinated by the Red Cross. On the first day all who are interested are invited to come at 1 p.m. for orientation and instructions. This is an effort to make the veteran's stay in our community more pleasant and provide activities to help fill their time. The project is undertaken with the assistance of VA staff members but success will depend on the response of local organizations and individuals.

Those present at the planning session were: Miss Genevieve Mills, Richard White, Oliver Stringer, Robert Bethel, Richard Comstock and Mrs. Doris Hurd from Chillicothe. Mrs. Charles Moss of the American Legion Auxiliary and Mrs. Roloff Walford, executive secretary of the Red Cross in Pickaway County.

Ohio Guard Aids In Lake Survey

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio National Guard is undertaking a project with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency aimed at assisting state and federal authorities to identify potential water threats to Ohio lakes and reservoirs.

Robert Payne, overall survey coordinator for EPA, said guardsman from 20 units around the state will be sampling 95 stations on lake tributaries to determine the eutrophication threat to the lakes. They will also assist in the identification of nutrient sources.

Payne said eutrophication occurs when excess chemical nutrients, such as phosphates, overstimulate aquatic plant growth. As a result, he pointed out, water quality deteriorates and fish died.

"The driving habits of the American people can determine whether we get through the summer without a problem or whether we have to consider far more serious remedial measures than have so far been considered."

In renewing President Nixon's wage-and-price-control authority Monday night, Congress gave him, for the first time since the energy crisis became a public issue, clear authority to allocate petroleum products.

Administration officials have repeatedly said there was no intention to institute gasoline rationing in the foreseeable future, but Morton's statements seemed to mean that

80 Days Pass

Without Report

Of Hog Cholera

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has gone a record 80 days without an outbreak of hog cholera, but Agriculture Department officials say producers need to keep watching for signs of the disease.

No confirmed cases have been disclosed in the 50 states since last Feb. 7 and no federal quarantines are currently in effect. Puerto Rico, however, reported two cases of the disease in March, and the commonwealth is under quarantine.

"No one thinks we've seen the last of this disease, so let's find the trouble spots now before they can spread," Dr. E.E. Saulmon of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service said in a statement today.

A federal and state campaign to eradicate hog cholera was started in 1962. Some 41 states now have been declared "hog cholera free" by USDA.

adequate gasoline was becoming less and less foreseeable.

Morton urged the public to take nine commonsense steps to save gasoline:

— "Plan vacations and camping trips closer to home.

— "Use trains, buses or airplanes on long trips rather than automobiles.

— "Use automobiles only for necessary trips.

— "Limit the use of auto air-conditioners and other fuel consuming accessories.

Gasoline Shortage In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — The beginning of what some officials have predicted is a gasoline shortage crisis came at midnight Monday with the expiration of West Virginia's contract on gasoline and oil.

"West Virginia will have long-term, serious and costly supply problems," said Ronald G. Pearson, state commissioner of finance and administration.

No major firm responded to two separate bid openings within the last six weeks in an attempt to renew the contract which serves various agencies, including the Department of Highways and the state police.

Budget Deficit

Projections Cut

For Next 2 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government Tuesday revised sharply downward its estimated budget deficits for 1973 and 1974 as a result of rising government receipts.

Secretary of the Treasury George P. Shultz said the 1973 budget deficit is now $19.8 billion, $5.7 billion less than the original estimate. The estimated 1974 budget deficit is now $5 billion, he said, an improvement of $7 billion over the original estimate.

Shultz attributed the improved budget figures to a rising flow of tax receipts "primarily because of the strong upturn in the economy."

He said total budget expenditures should be as previously budgeted—$249.8 billion for 1973 and $268.7 billion for 1974.

Hospital Administrator Speaks To General Guild

The final 1972-73 forum of Berger Hospital General Guild was held recently with 18 guilds represented. Mrs. John Stevenson, president, presided.

John Reid, hospital administrator, thanked them for this year's gifts and Special Care Unit equipment. He noted that although the unit is now in operation, the official opening will be held from 2-4 p.m. May 6th with an open house. The unit has not been empty since it was put in use.

The original wiring for four beds has, at times, been stretched to accommodate five beds. The unit is staffed 24 hours a day by trained personnel. He added that according to statistics Pickaway County has the highest rate of heart incidence in the state of Ohio. Mr. Reid also said that a firm date will be announced in the near future for construction of the expansion program.

Guild members voted to buy the following equipment from a list submitted by the medical staff as their annual gift: bottle warmer for nursery, stroke-cardiac chairs with lap board, Bennett respirator, wheel chairs, overbed tables, Mira oxygen analyzer, amby bag for Special Care Unit and Littman pediatric stethoscope. The items total a cost of $2546.

In addition to the General Guild gift, the Gift Shop purchased laboratory equipment amounting to $3460.

The guild then adopted a list of new procedures for the annual gift. They will make the flow of purchases easier to handle and be properly credited to the individual guild giving the item. The new procedure plans will be sent to each guild before the September forum.

Mrs. Stevenson said the Lawn Festival plans are in full swing. It will be held from 4-8 p.m. June 1st on the lawn of the hospital. There will be varied foods and games and pork chops will be barbecued by the Pickaway County Pork Assn. A band concert is scheduled for 7 p.m.

The 1973-74 slate of officers was presented and voted on. Elected to serve as officers are: Mrs. Nelson Stevens, president; Mrs. Carl Russell, 1st vice president; Mrs. Robert Liggett, 2nd vice president; Mrs. James Hall, treasurer; Mrs. Vincent DeFrank, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Roese, recording secretary and Mrs. Ron Berlin, member-at-large.

Refreshments were served by Guild 38 following the meeting.

Boy Found Guilty Of Gas Theft

Theft of gasoline from Ron Furness brought a 17-year-old Mt. Sterling area boy into Juvenile Court recently.

The youth was found guilty of stealing two gallons of gas and fined $50. He was placed on probation with the court for one year.

The cases of three Washington C.H. boys, charged with the theft of a weather vane from the McKinley Kirk farm in Perry Twp., were transferred to Fayette County for juvenile authorities there to handle. Charges of grand larceny were filed against the three for taking the weathervane, valued at $175.

Two girls, accused of shoplifting a pair of shoes from Buckeye Mart, were given probation. One girl, 16, was found guilty of violating the terms of her probation imposed previously for school truancy and ordered placed in the custody of the Childrens Services. The other girl, also 16, was placed on probation for three years.

Richard Kirk's driving privileges were restricted for work purposes only for a two month period after the court found him guilty of driving at an excessive speed.

McGough Officially Assumes Party Duties

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Kent McGough of Lima officially assumed the position of chairman of the Ohio Republican Party Tuesday.

McGough, who had been treasurer of the state GOP organization, replaced John Andrews, who has taken a job with Owens-Illinois Corp., in Washington.

Crop Production Outlook Darkens

WASHINGTON (AP) — Severe weather, including record flooding in much of the Southern cotton area, continues to stall farmers and cast serious shadows over prospects for crop production this year, say Agriculture Department analysts.

"Spring plowing of land intended for corn and soybeans in the north-central states is only about 30 per cent done, compared to about 75 per cent a year earlier," the department said Tuesday in a weekly weather report.

Extremely heavy rains and flooding of "record proportions" continued to plague Southern cotton growers last week, the report said. Of about 11 million acres estimated as flooded, some 8.5 million are in Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana.

"Cotton land preparation and planting has been and continues to be badly delayed, especially in the flooded areas of the (Mississippi River) delta, where time remaining to plant cotton is running out," the report said.

Less than two per cent of the cotton acreage was planted in Mississippi by last weekend, compared with about 41 per cent normally.

"Almost no cotton is planted in Arkansas, compared to the normal 33 per cent, and less than one per cent is planted in Louisiana versus 80 per cent last year," the report said.

Officials said wet weather delayed Midwestern corn planting last year until about May 15. The bulk of the area's corn then was planted during the last two weeks of May.

"Corn Belt farmers are hoping for six to 10 days of dry weather to permit full scale plowing and planting," the USDA report said. "Corn planting started and advanced to five per cent in Iowa ... (but) was limited to well-drained soils. Minnesota corn acreage is four per cent planted, ahead of normal."

Soybeans usually are planted later than corn, the report noted. That means farmers can be expected to turn first to corn as soon as fields dry.

Rare Disease Yields To Surgery

BOSTON (AP) — Osmarina Santana has returned to Brazil with relief from a rare lymphatic disease and the prospect for a normal life. She also carried the thought that attention to her case could end the suffering of many with similar afflictions.

After unsuccessful treatments and being told that nothing could help her, the 17-year-old girl came to Boston from her home at Belem last December as a partial cripple.

When she left on Monday, she was able to walk and—for the first time she could remember—to run.

Osmarina suffers from lymphedema, commonly called Milroy's Disease, in which the lymph fluid from body cells cannot drain because of inadequate lymphatic vessels.

The fluid accumulates in the legs and causes swelling, pressure and

Ex-UMW District Official Indicted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — William R. Frazier of Scranton, Pa., has been indicted by a federal grand jury for allegedly embezzling $1,658 from six United Mine Workers locals in Ohio.

The indictment said Frazier, formerly a UMW representative from District 50 here, converted the locals' funds to his own use.

Three locals are in Columbus. The others are at New Lexington, Carey and Grove City. The amounts allegedly taken ranged from $100 to $500, the indictment said.

2 Credit Unions Get 60-Day Suspensions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The operations of two credit unions in Alliance and Youngstown have been suspended because of what the Ohio Commerce Department called unsafe and unsound practices.

Commerce Director Dennis Shaul said they were the A.S.E. Employees Union, Inc., at Alliance, and the I.P. Employees Credit Union, Inc. at Youngstown.

The suspensions will remain in effect for 60 days.

pain, making it difficult, if not impossible, to walk. Firm, fibrous tissue forms in the swollen areas, keeping the legs large and unsightly—and socially embarrassing.

Osmarina and her father, Elroy Santana, were referred to Dr. Neil R. Feins, of the Boston University Medical Center by Dr. Lillian McMahon, the daughter of a Brazilian industrialist who now is a pediatrician

Pre-Entrance

Test For Nurse

School Is Slated

Pre-entrance testing for the September class of the Southeastern Ohio School of Practical Nursing will be held on May 12, at 8:30 a.m. at the School in Nelsonville.

The test, for which there is an $8 fee, takes approximately 3½ hours to complete.

The School of Practical Nursing, a division of Hocking Technical College, offers a one-year program in cooperation with Chillicothe Hospital. Nursing theory is combined with actual clinical experience, students spending two days a week as student nurses at the Chillicothe Hospital and traveling to Nelsonville for classes on the remaining days. Bus transportation is provided from Chillicothe to Nelsonville.

Applicants must be high school graduates or must have a Certificate of High School Equivalence (G.E.D.). Since the May 12 testing is the last regularly scheduled test date before September, those wishing to attend in September should contact the school to make arrangements to be included in the test group.

Further information may be obtained by calling the School at 753-3514, ext. 75, between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

at the East Boston Neighborhood Health Center.

Feins said he could help with a technique developed by Dr. Eric W. Fonkalsrud of the University of California at Los Angeles School of Medicine.

Antioch Office

Gutted By Fire

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP) — The dean of community services office at Antioch College was gutted by fire Tuesday. One campus firefighter suffered minor smoke inhalation.

The fire is under investigation by village fire officials who have set no damage estimate. It was the second in as many days on the campus, which has been shut down by striking financial aid students since April 18.

Yellow Springs Fire Chief Andrew Benning said this morning's fire swept through the ground floor of North Hall on the east and where the dean's office is situated. An adjoining office also was burned. There has been no determination as to the cause.

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents were posted outside key White House offices Tuesday as President Nixon moved to protect files which might be needed in the expanding Watergate investigation.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler maintained that this was "a safeguarding procedure" and was "not to cast aspersions on any individual."

He said the FBI agents were posted wherever White House files were, specifically at the offices of Nixon's former top aides, H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman and counsel John W. Dean III.

The new procedure, Ziegler said, was put into effect as the result of a meeting Monday afternoon with Nixon's new Watergate probe supervisors, presidential special consultant Leonard Garment, who took over counsel Dean's duties, Defense Secretary Elliot Richardson, whom Nixon has nominated as attorney general and put in over-all charge of the Watergate investigation, and the newly named acting director of the FBI, William D. Ruckelshaus.

The aim, Ziegler said, was "to physically protect the files to make sure that access and removal of any files were supervised in accordance with very strict procedure."

The Watergate investigation has produced allegations that some vital documents were removed from the White House and destroyed.

Asked why the White House police had not been given this security duty, Ziegler said he was not sure. But, he said, this "was an initial step" ordered by the three Watergate probe chiefs.

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

A low pressure area centered early today over northern Illinois was forecast to move northeast across lower Michigan, bringing cooler weather late in the day to Ohio.

The leading edge of the cold air will reach the northwest tip of Ohio by sunset.

Warm moist air across the state, coupled with unstable conditions brought by movement of the low were forecast to bring numerous showers and thunderstorms to the state today and tonight.

The showers will end as the cool air moves across Ohio and to the east late tonight.

Temperatures will drop to the low 50s early Thursday morning, then climb to highs in the 50s and possibly near 60 later in the day.

Cool weather remains the forecast through the weekend with highs in the 50s and 60s and lows from the upper 30s to upper 40s.

Warm, cloudy weather covered Ohio Tuesday night and this morning. Scattered, light showers were reported, mostly in western parts of the state.

Lows ranged from the mid 50s to low 60s.

New Counsel Long-Time Friend Of President

WASHINGTON (AP) — When President Nixon needed a friend to replace White House counsel John W. Dean III in the Watergate shakeup, he didn't have to look far.

Waiting in the wings was Leonard Garment, a member of Nixon's inner circle—one-time partner in Nixon's New York law firm and a veteran of the President's campaigns since 1966.

Garment has played a lowprofile,

Debbie Reynolds Faces Charges

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Debbie Reynolds was arraigned in Criminal Court on charges of possessing an unlicensed firearm—an antique stage pistol.

Miss Reynolds, currently starring in the musical "Irene," was continued free without bail Monday pending a hearing May 8.

She was given a summons April 8 after her son Todd Fisher, 15, wounded himself slightly while playing with the gun. The boy also is the son of singer Eddie Fisher.

effective role in the White House ever since the early days of the Nixon administration. He is more liberal than ousted aides H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, who overshadowed him.

A one-time jazz clarinetist with the Woody Herman Band, he is probably better known around Washington as Nixon's liaison with the arts than as a legal expert.

But Garment's assignments as the President's special consultant have tapped both his legal and artistic talents.

They have ranged from dealing with militant Indians who took over Alcatraz to arranging a White House musical salute to jazz musician Duke Ellington.

Nixon and Garment first met in 1965 when Nixon joined the New York law firm of Mudge, Rose, Guthrie and Alexander. Garment had been a member of the firm since his graduation from Brooklyn College in 1949 and a partner since 1957.

It was with a nucleus of friends, including members of the law firm, that Nixon began his political comeback after losses to John F.

Kennedy in 1960 and to California Gov. Edmund Brown in 1962. Garment was among them and is credited with recommending a new member of the firm, John N. Mitchell, as a campaign manager for Nixon's 1968 presidential bid.

Former Housing Official Indicted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Franklin County grand jury has indicted a former member of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority for soliciting bribes from two companies that sold homes to the public agency.

Carl L. Brown, 55, was indicted Tuesday for soliciting money from a representative of American Urban, an affiliate of Virginia Homes, in 1970, and two officials of Brittany Builders Inc., in 1969. The indictments said the amount of the money ranged from $20,000 to more than $50,000.

Brown, a grocer and Ohio Small Businessman of the Year in 1968, surrendered to authorities at the courthouse.

In the 1968 campaign, Garment was among Nixon's closest advisers, working with his speechwriters, advising on use of the media and acting as a talent scout and promoter for Nixon.

When Nixon became president, Garment went back briefly to the law firm while Mitchell became attorney general. But, in May 1969, Garment was named special consultant to the President with responsibilities in areas from civil rights to the arts.

Man Remains Free;

Released In Error

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Eighteen-year-old John Wiley remained free today after accidentally being released from the Lucas County Jail, the sheriff's department said.

A department spokesman said Wiley, convicted of armed robbery and assault with a dangerous weapon, was released by mistake when a grand jury failed to return indictments against him. He said a deputy failed to notice commitment papers for Wiley to Chillicothe Correction Institute and released him Monday.

There, he was far less influential than Haldeman and Ehrlichman. He played his part with missions to placate the Indians, meeting protesters at the White House gate and visiting U.S. bases in Europe to check on racial problems.

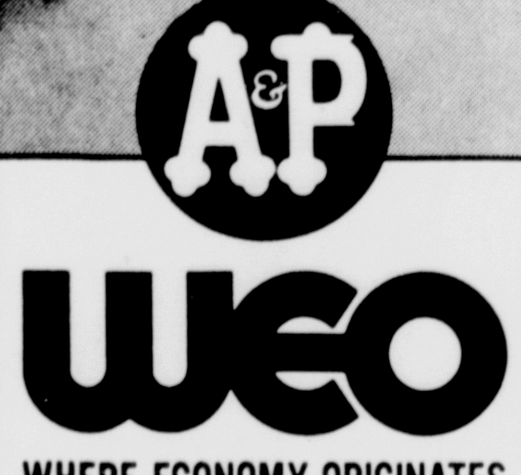

The son of immigrants, born in Brooklyn, N.Y., Garment will celebrate his 49th birthday May 11 in a suddenly spotlighted White House role. Along with Elliot L. Richardson, Nixon's nominee for attorney general, Garment has been given the assignment to pursue justice fairly and fully and "to speed truth's discovery" in the Watergate scandal.

Tavern Closing Brings Police

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — It was a night to remember for the last 120 patrons of the Flying Dutchman Tavern in suburban Parma.

It was the last night for the tavern to remain open since residents had voted the area dry, and the celebration got a bit too noisy.

Policemen from six communities swooped down on the establishment and arrested four persons on charges ranging from second-degree riot and resisting arrest to abusing a police officer.

Soviet Union Handles Nixon Troubles Gingerly

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

For a Communist party chief in a major holiday appearance, Leonid I. Brezhnev's May Day address was a model of brevity and restraint. The harshness toward the United States that more often than not marks Soviet pronouncements on such occasions was noticeably missing.

The whole Brezhnev performance of late, in fact, carries a hint of worry that the manifold troubles of the Nixon administration, including the Watergate explosion, will have some unfavorable impact on development of better Soviet-U.S. relations.

Unquestionably the Tass news agency has been pouring out thousands of words on the scandal in Washington for the edification of the Kremlin and its ministries, but nothing of it has appeared in the Soviet press. Evidently the decision from on high was to ignore it.

In other days and other circumstances, the troubles of the United States would have looked finger-lickin' good to the Communist bloc. Here was the American image, already badly hurt by Vietnam, damaged anew by political scandal, continuing U.S. bombing in Cambodia and soaring

Circleville Board Expands Summer School

Summer school will be offered on the secondary level at Circleville.

Elementary summer school programs had been approved for the district earlier, but the board voted Tuesday to add classes in English I, General Science and General Math for students this year. The secondary program does not qualify for any federal money and will be funded entirely by the school board.

A resignation was accepted from Mrs. Gail Bartlett, fifth grade teacher at Nicholas Drive Elementary.

Contracts for roof repairs were awarded to J. E. Peters and Richard M. Smith Roofing Co. Peters was granted the roof job on the south section of the junior high building for $1,098 and Smith was contracted to do work at South Court Elementary for $1,750.

Bids totalling $1,938 from Chet Hill were accepted. The bids were for summer painting jobs at Atwater and the junior high school.

Brent Bell was given permission to attend a football clinic Friday at Ohio State University.

The board met Tuesday noon in a continuation of their regular April meeting. Next scheduled meeting of the board is May 22.

Rate Increases Asked

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two giant power companies have asked the state Public Utilities Commission for increases that would hike the price of electricity for more than one million residential customers by $27 to $47 a year.

inflation, among other troubles.

Soviet politicians, in fact, might be anticipating an advantageous erosion of European confidence in the United States. Perhaps there is pressure on Brezhnev to take advantage of this, but apparently he wants to avoid any overt move that might endanger his most important goal—development of trade and scientific-technical relations with the United States for the benefit of the Soviet economy.

The gingerly Moscow approach could reflect worry that it wouldn't take much to upset the process of improving relations—perhaps even to prevent Brezhnev's planned visit to the United States next month.

Brezhnev knows that Washington remains wary of Soviet aims in Europe. Secretary of State William P. Rogers noted in a speech April 23 that despite progress in reducing tension, the competitive nature of nations remains a fact of life and there still are "sound military reasons for maintaining our forces in Europe."

In any event, Brezhnev said nothing bellicose in his May Day address. On the contrary, newly adorned by a Lenin Peace Prize, the party chief waxed almost lyrical about the outlook for peace.

"The war in Vietnam ... has ended," he said, an observation that might surprise the Vietnamese. "Serious positive changes have been scored in Europe.... A turn from the cold war and dangerous tension is taking place, toward reasonable joint efforts to strengthen peace and development mutually advantageous cooperation."

Speaking of the United States, Brezhnev said only that Moscow approaches Washington, as it approaches others in the West, with a peaceful policy, hoping to "facilitate favorable development of Soviet-American relations on the principles of mutual respect and mutual advantage."

The party secretary did give a nod in the direction of the Soviet military, which harbors many a hard-nosed opponent of any policy that might tend to deflect wealth from the armed forces budget.

"Struggling for lasting peace," Brezhnev said, "we do not forget that forces hostile to peace have not laid down arms. We remember about the machinations of aggressive circles and maintain high vigilance. On the May Day holiday we send ardent greetings to the glorious men of our armed forces, firmly standing guard over peace."

It sounded ritual, however. Otherwise, the whole thrust was peace and prosperity. Brezhnev and his supporters are committed to the idea that building a strong economy means insuring future Soviet power and influence. They need better relations with the United States to help bring that about, and evidently want to keep the road clear of obstacles.

Giants Unload On Pirates, 8-7

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Bill Virdon of the Pittsburgh Pirates got some bad news Tuesday night. . . and then he got some worse news.

First the bad news: Virdon was ejected by umpire Doug Harvey with the bases loaded and two out in the bottom of the ninth inning for protesting ball-and-strike calls.

Now the worse news: With Virdon en route to the clubhouse, Bobby Bonds slammed a three-run double that capped a seven-run explosion and lifted the San Francisco Giants to a stunning 8-7 triumph over the slumping Pirates.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Chicago Cubs trounced Los Angeles 9-5, Montreal outslugged Atlanta 9-6 despite a pair of home runs by Hank Aaron, Houston blanked Philadelphia 3-0 as Jerry Reuss outdueled Steve Carlton and San Diego pounded St. Louis 10-5. The New York Mets and Cincinnati Reds were not scheduled.

Pittsburgh's Bob Moose was breezing along with a five-hitter and a 7-1 lead when he walked Bonds to open the ninth. But he recovered to get a pair of forceouts and it appeared as though the Pirates would snap their five-game losing streak.

Moose issued two more walks and pinch hitter Chris Arnold tagged reliever Ramon Hernandez for a grand slam home run.

Gary Matthews followed with a double and Hernandez loaded the bases with two more walks. That got Dave Giusti in...and Virdon out.

Bonds tagged a 2-2 pitch up the alley in left-center as Matthews, Dave Rader and Jimmy Howarth all raced home.

Fourth-inning home runs by Billy Williams, Ron Santo and Jose Cardenal powered the Cubs over Los Angeles. It was Chicago's fourth win in a row and boosted them into a first-place tie with the idle Mets in the NL East, the first time since June 24, 1970—except for opening day—they've been that high.

Fred Kendall and Dave Campbell each drove in three runs and Nate Colbert doubled home two more as San Diego trounced hapless St. Louis. It was the Cards' 16th defeat in 19 games and their seventh loss on the road, where they have yet to win.

The Padres snapped a 3-3 tie with six runs in the fifth inning off Scipio Spinks and Wayne Granger. Derrel Thomas drove in the tie-breaking run with a single and Colbert's double sent two more runs across.

Pinch hitter Hal Breeden's tie-breaking infield hit with the bases loaded and Ron Hunt's single accounted for three runs in the eighth inning and led Montreal over Atlanta despite the 67th and 68th career homers by Aaron.

Darrell Evans' three-run homer in the sixth gave the Braves a 5-4 lead but the Expos went in front 6-5 in the seventh when Tim Lincecum singled and Mike Jorgensen homered.

Jim Wynn's fifth-inning homer gave Houston's Reuss the only run he needed to beat Philadelphia and the Astros added a pair in the seventh.

The big hitter for the Pioneers was Doug Strawser, collecting a double and three singles in four trips to the plate. For Logan Elm, Mark and Greg Justus both tripled and both batted in two runs. Francis was two for four at the plate, driving in one run and Pontius hit a double and two singles driving in three runs. Other hits included Vanover's double, singles by DeBruin, Search.

French started on the mound for Zane Trace and was relieved by Strawser in the third. Together they struck out nine and walked 11, allowing 10 hits.

Doug Marshall went the first four for Logan Elm and Francis the last three. Together they whiffed 12 and didn't walk anyone. They were touched for nine hits.

Lakers Edge Tough Knicks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach Bill Sharman called for his defending champion Los Angeles Lakers to improve if they hope to beat the tenacious New York Knicks who nearly overcame a 20-point deficit Tuesday night.

Opening the National Basketball Association championship playoffs, the Lakers surged to a 93-73 lead at the Forum with just 1 minute 12 seconds left in the third quarter.

Then the Knicks came roaring back, finally losing 115-112.

"That was one of the most frustrating games I ever had to watch," Sharman declared, adding:

"I think we caught them a little tired and if we expect to win this series, we are going to have to have better movement and get the ball down the court quicker."

Wilt Chamberlain controlled the backboards for the Lakers and forced the Knicks into outside shooting where they didn't start hitting until the fourth quarter. Then Dave DeBusschere and Bill Bradley scored nine and eight points, respectively, to lead the comeback.

Overall, DeBusschere was the losers' leading scorer with 25 points but he commented, "The fact we closed to within three points makes no difference. The fact remains that we are 0-1."

Burger Chef — No manager, Eric Berger, Mark Blue, Lloyd Cline, Terry Francis, John Frericks, Ronald Hill, David Holbrook, Tod Mancini, Charles Manson, Toren Miller, Jeffrey Moorehead, Gregory Pearce, Kevin Rogols and Randy Speakman.

The second game in the best-of-7 final series will be played at the Forum again Thursday night at 7:30 p.m., PDT, with another capacity crowd of 17,505 assured.

Brewers Top A's 4-3, Lead Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milwaukee's John Briggs remembered the one hit he managed against Oakland's Blue Moon Odom last season. He'll also remember the two hits he walloped off the A's right-hander Tuesday night.

Briggs, who earlier had expressed concern over his lack of runs batted in, hit a three-run triple and then belted a game-winning home run in the ninth as the Brewers defeated the A's 4-3 Tuesday night and moved into first place in the American League East.

"I had been getting my hits with nobody on base or I'd wind up sending someone from first to second or something like that," Briggs said. "But I figured it's a long season and I'd start getting some RBIs eventually."

Briggs hit Odom's first pitch of the ninth—"I think it was a slider"—into the rightfield bleachers, snapping a 3-3 deadlock and lifting the Brewers to victory.

In other American League games, California whipped Detroit 6-2, Texas edged Boston 7-6, New York crushed Kansas City 6-1 and Chicago beat Baltimore 6-5. Cleveland at Minnesota was rained out.

Oakland took a 2-0 lead in the third on Gene Tenace's homer but Briggs then put the Brewers in front with his basesloaded triple to left center that was barely missed by A's outfielder Bill North.

Frank Robinson and Bob Oliver each drove in two runs as the Angels erupted for a 10-hit, six-run attack in the first five innings against the Tigers.

Robinson began the assault with his fourth homer of the season and 526th of his career in the second inning and designated hitter Bill Grabarkewitz added a solo shot in the third.

Pinch runner Tom Grieve stole second and scored the winning run on Jeff Burroughs' two-out single in the ninth inning as the Rangers handed the slumping Red Sox their 11th defeat in 14 games.

A three-run homer by Bobby Murcer broke open a tight game and relief ace Sparky Lyle recorded his first save of the season as the Yankees posted their fourth straight victory. Lyle, who set a league record of 35 saves last season, took the mound in the seventh with runners at first and third and one out and retired the next two batters on ground balls.

Dick Allen hit two homers and Ed Herrmann added a tworun blast that carried the White Sox past the Orioles. Allen's first homer in the first soared into the double-decked left field stands and bounced out of the park. Brooks

Robinson's second-inning homer gave the Orioles a 1-1 tie but Allen gave Chicago the lead for good with a two-run homer in the fourth.

Oakland Pitchers Practice Without Hope Of Batting

OAKLAND (AP) — When the Oakland A's gathered in Arizona for spring training, Manager Dick Williams quickly assured his pitchers they'd still take batting practice this season.

"If they took that away from us, we'd have nothing left," says John "Blue Moon" Odom, who hit two home runs in 1972 but hasn't come to bat this year.

"I don't think any American League pitcher has batted yet. The next time one does will probably be in the World Series," Odom added.

The American League's new designated hitter rule, a radical change in big league baseball, will be in effect for regular season and playoff games, but not in the World Series. American League pitchers will also have to bat in the mid-summer AllStar game, but may not get a chance then because of the frequent use of pinch hitters.

"It will be awfully tough for the American League pitchers when they bat in the Series, after not seeing real pitching in more than a year," says Paul Lindblad, an A's reliever.

Fans must come to the Oakland Coliseum early to see the A's pitchers hit. The hurlers get 20 minutes of batting cage time, at 10:55 a.m. before day games, which start at 1:30 p.m., and at 5:25 p.m. before night games, which start at 8 p.m.

The competition is fierce.

"We play a game every day, the starters against the relievers," explains Jim Hunter, who batted .350 and .219 the past two seasons. "It's 50 cents a man. The losing team pays, and if it's a tie, both teams pay."

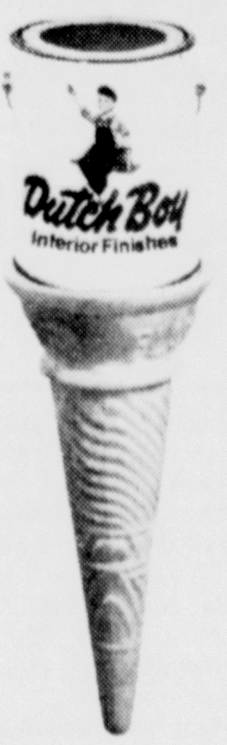

"The money goes into a pool, and we have a big party at the end of the season. We had $160 in there last year."

Under the rules of the game, a line drive to the outfield grass is a single, a ball that bounces against the wall is a double, one that hits the wall is a triple and one that clears the fences is a home run.

"Most of us swing for the fences," says Lindblad. "It's easier to score that way than to get a bunch of singles."

CHS Reserves Beat Braves

Circleville's reserve baseball squad stopped Logan Elm, 7-2, Tuesday on the Braves' diamond.

Phil Roll was on the mound for the Tigers. He gave up five hits, walked four and struckout eight. Roll aided his own effort with a pair of doubles and a single.

Derek Morris and Steve Rawlins shared mound duties for Logan Elm. They allowed nine hits, five walks and fanned 11.

The Tigers scored one run in the top of the first inning, two in the third, three in the fourth and one in the fifth. The Braves tallied single runs in the sixth and seventh.

Tim McNaughton and David Bevans each had two singles for Circleville with Randy Thomas and Hoffman each getting a one-bagger.

Hospital Administrator Explains Phase I Construction Plan To C Of C

John Reid, administrator of Berger Hospital, described the hospital's building plans to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their meeting Tuesday.

Reid advised the Chamber that the construction program in its first phase, that of constructing a "patient support" facility to house laboratory, radiology, pharmacy, surgery, and emergency rooms, would be funded without tax money.

Funds to be used will include some $600,000 left to the hospital since 1929 for building, private support and one-half million dollars in revenue bonds.

The move toward support services is a necessity, Reid noted, since the hospital must work toward meeting state standards and the state will not approve additional hospital beds for Berger until it expands its area for surgery, emergency and lab services.

Phase II of the program calls for construction of a building for medical-surgical beds. The original 1929 section of the hospital is not approved under state law because of its construction. Narrow doorways, halls and unapproved building materials are the problem, according to the administrator.

The Hospital Board's plans call for the maternity ward to remain as it is and to gradually turn the old hospital facility into administrative offices, storage and possible ambulatory patient care in the 1954 wing.

Reid presented the facts that 6,000 Pickaway Counties had been hospitalized last year, but only half in Berger Hospital.

In addition, the hospital gave $113,000 worth of free care to area residents for which the hospital will get no refund from state or support agencies. Over 10,000 persons will visit the emergency room this year, according to Reid, and only 20 per cent of these will be true emergencies. The remaining 80 per cent primarily includes the indigent, those just above the welfare level or unable to obtain the services of a family physician.

Renovation of the current hospital building would cost $55 a square foot, the administrator said, and only $5 more per square foot to construct a new building which would be more likely to conform with future state legislation pertaining to hospitals and their services.

During the Chamber's business session, reports were heard from various committee chairmen. George Hamrick reported that the Agri-Business committee is planning a Consumer School, to help acquaint citizens of the area with the recent label changes on retail food items and what they mean.

Ned Harden, commenting on City-County Planning, noted that a thoroughfare plan is in its initial stages and will be presented to the public in sectional meetings. He invited prospective land buyers or sellers or developers to use the service of the Consultant-Planner who is at the county engineer's office every Tuesday. She is available to give information and aid during regular courthouse hours.

The week of May 14 will be "Beautify Circleville" Week, John Farthing announced. Trash pickup is planned by the city trucks and a program of free junk auto disposal is being offered. May 19 is Clean-Up Day, when volunteer Scout, service and youth groups will clear rubbish from areas already mapped out by the committee.

Car Forced From Road

Deputy Sheriff Jim Deal charged Mikel Watson, Route 1, Lockbourne, with driving left of center after he allegedly forced a car which was in the process of passing him off the Circleville-Lockbourne Road.

Driver of the other car, William Crabtree, 34, Route 1, Lockbourne, was treated for bruised elbows and knees following the 8:25 p.m. Tuesday wreck when his car flipped to its top after crashing into a ditch.

Deputy Deal said both vehicles were southbound on the road, north of the Harrisburg-Fairfield Rd. intersection, when Crabtree pulled into the right lane to pass Watson.

According to witnesses, Watson drove left of center and struck the right rear portion of Crabtree's car. Watson's car skidded 51 feet into the west ditch.

Deputy Sheriff Bob Hoover said a 26-year-old Columbus man, Curtis G. Lemaster, suffered serious hand injuries when he lost control of his motorcycle in a curve on Long St., Ashville, 3:30 a.m. Wednesday.

He was treated at Berger Hospital for a fractured right hand, and abrasions and contusions of his left hand and face.

The deputy reported that he was transferred to a Columbus clinic for further treatment.

Woman Faces Murder Trial In Germany

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has ordered that Hermine Braunsteiner Ryan be extradited to West Germany to face murder charges stemming from her role as a Nazi SS guard at a World War II concentration camp.

Judge Jacob Mishler of Brooklyn, granting for the first time extradition of a United States resident for alleged war crimes, said Tuesday there was "probable cause" that the 53-year-old housewife had committed acts charged by a German court.

Following Mishler's ruling, U.S. Atty. Robert A. Morse disclosed that he and other authorities were investigating reports that at least 50 persons might be "in a situation similar to that of Mrs. Ryan."

Judge Mishler stayed Mrs. Ryan's extradition until Friday to allow her attorneys time to appeal.

The West German Foreign Ministry, in a 30-page document presented to the court last month, had charged that Mrs. Ryan, now married to a U.S. construction worker, helped send more than 1,700 victims to the gas chambers.

Citgo Boosts Gasoline Price

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Citgo Inc. today boosted the price of gasoline at its service stations by 1.2 cents per gallon.

The hike comes on the heels of a one-cent price increase last Friday by Clark Oil & Refining Co. service stations and a three-cent hike at Falcon and Martin Oil Co. stations two weeks ago.

Spokesmen for the Shell Oil, Gulf Oil and Standard Oil companies said they do not expect gasoline prices to rise at their stations.

All contributions received from Poppy Day go directly to aid disabled war veterans and members of their families.

Editor's Note: The government has 550 inspectors to enforce its job-safety rules. The following, third in a series from The AP Special Assignment Team, examines that enforcement.

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

In case you were wondering, Ralph Zuber's electrical outlets aren't orange. And the federal government won't make him paint them.

Nor will it force Zuber or any other employer to install toilet seats or give up ice in drinking water.

Still, Congress remains in a mood to pull some teeth from the two-year-old job-safety act that supposedly was bothering Zuber and a lot of other small businessmen.

Zuber is manager of a 15-man custom furniture shop in Amana, Iowa. In a recent national news story, he and other small businessmen were quoted as being worried, perplexed and angry about the Occupational Safety and Health Act. OSHA, they felt, imposed regulations that were often expensive and petty.

Zuber reportedly said, "I want to comply, but I've got to make a living. Did you know we've even got to paint the electrical outlets orange? Why, I don't know."

Zuber now says he can't remember saying that. Anyway, there's no requirement that electrical sockets be painted orange, or any other color.

Furthermore, Zuber says, he supports the job-safety act, even though its costing him around $20,000 to do such things as replace ungrounded electric hand tools, install emergency cut-off switches on some power machinery and install guards on power saw blades.

"We needed something like this," he said. "But they have to use common sense. You can't do these things overnight."

Like most other small businessmen, Zuber never has had a visit from one of the Labor Department's 550 job-safety inspectors. With five million workplaces to inspect, chances are it would take them years to reach Zuber unless a fatal accident or employee safety complaint puts him on the inspection list.

Nevertheless, Congress is receiving howls from plenty of small businessmen who don't like OSHA. "It's just fear," says Herbert Liebenson, legislative vice president for the National Small Businessmen's Association. "They only hear the horror stories."

He says a poll of his members shows they are more worried about OSHA than anything else, even taxes.

Congress has the message. Last year it voted twice to exempt millions of small businessmen from the safety standards. But both times President Nixon vetoed the spending bill to which the exemption was attached as a rider. So virtually all employers still are covered.

This year few expect that Congress will approve an exemption again, but even OSHA's friends are willing to soften its bite on business somewhat. And the law's old critics are pressing for nothing less than an extensive defanging, including an end to most mandatory fines and a provision that would divert many inspectors to handing out advice instead of fines.

Not all the criticism of OSHA is undeserved. Officials concede they blundered when, in their initial rush to get safety standards written, they adopted outmoded rules calling for split toilet seats and banning ice in drinking water. These have been rescinded.

And businessmen aren't the only ones with complaints about OSHA. Labor unions complain there are too few men and too little money to properly enforce standards.

"Aside from underfunding, aside from lack of inspectors, its direction will always be 'Go easy on the employer,'" adds Anthony Mazzocchi of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers.

Of the 32,701 employers inspected last year, 29 per cent were found to have no violations, and the rest were assessed an average fine of $99. Employers contested only one fine in 20.

Meanwhile, OSHA tries to concentrate its scanty resources on the most nettlesome problems. Last year it devoted 10 per cent of its time to investigating fatal accidents, 15 per cent to investigating safety complaints by workers and 38 per cent to particularly hazardous industries.

And in a year when the administration is trimming back many programs, OSHA plans to hire a few more people and increase its $68.7 million budget by another million. It plans to increase the number of inspections to 55,000 this year and 80,000 next.

Perhaps Ralph Zuber's shop will be among them.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Avoid getting stirred up about a property matter today, otherwise a bitter argument is possible. Analyze where you stand financially and think of the most practical ways to overcome handicaps. Don't consult experts at this time.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Although you may feel a financial lack, take no chances with unwise investments. Stick to the accepted methods and all works out fine. Do nothing unwise emotionally. Relax tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't get into an argument with one you think is deterring you from gaining personal aims, since you could be in error. A day to exercise much self-control. Stop being so demanding with others.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Although you feel imposed upon, don't get into arguments or matters could get worse. Being alert to conditions around you could prevent an unfortunate happening. Take it easy tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Steer clear of those friends who don't see eye to eye with one another, or you could get caught in the middle of an unpleasant situation. Don't become involved in an argument.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Take no risks where your good name is concerned and take no chances with debating in public. Political involvement is not good now, since others are arguing too much. Engage in your hobby.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study new thoughts and ideas that are progressive, but don't give up present methods. Study every angle for possible use in the future. Avoid one who gossips too much. Be calm.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Not a good day to talk over monetary affairs with others, but tomorrow is fine. Avoid the possibility of getting into arguments. Come to a better understanding with mate in the evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Although an associate is difficult, don't lose your temper or there could be added trouble. Get those promises of a public nature handled properly. Do nothing that could hurt others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You find that some co-workers are not in a good mood, but don't upbraid them. Try not to work so hard that your health is endangered. Be moderate in all that you do today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can have fun but it is important that you stay within your budget or you could regret it later. Your mate is in a bad mood, so try to be more cooperative. Think constructively.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Try not to do anything that could upset others at home or there could be a big argument there. A social affair should be postponed until a better time. Do some studying tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Much care in motion is important, or you could get into trouble. Think before you speak. Show that you are peaceful, kind and gentle with others. Avoid one who is a terrible gossip.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who likes to argue. At an early age teach to work with hands and read more so this excessive energy is properly channelled. Self-discipline should be taught early, or your youngster could go off on tangents that could lead to trouble. Give as much religious training as you can. Sports will be helpful.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — As Earl Hamner Jr. recalls it, his home town of Schuyler, Va., once was described in a federal writers' guidebook as "a tiny hamlet that rises to mild hilarity on Saturday nights."

His warm memories of growing up there since have become a Thursday night staple called "The Waltons," a Depression Era family series that is enjoying boom times on CBS television.

Hamner, who created the series from "The Homecoming," a semi-autobiographical novella he wrote 10 years ago, is having another homecoming involving Schuyler next May 12. He's going back to the tiny western Virginia town for "Nelson County Day" on the understanding that the well-wishers in the county won't make him get up and orate about his past, present or future.

"I'm afraid I'm not a very good public speaker," says Hamner, whose Virginia accent has survived his gradual migration to Hollywood, fame and a certain amount of fortune as a writer of novels and scripts. He still says "hoose" for house and "about" for about. He wears horn-rimmed glasses, favors tweed coats and resembles an English professor whose minor was soft speech.

Hamner, 49, is the oldest of eight children.

He might be known today as the Rev. Mr. Hamner had it not been for a minor transgression at the University of Richmond, where until 1943 he was a divinity student on a scholarship.

"My family was poor, but Dad was bent on my going to college," he said. "A doctor we know got in touch with the trustees at the University of Richmond about a scholarship. The only thing they had open was a ministerial scholarship. But we took it."

Hamner preferred not to discuss what aborted his future as a man of the cloth. But it was sufficient to get him drafted and shipped off to war just after the Normandy invasion in mid-1944.

"My specialty was defusing land mines," he grinned. "The life expectancy of a man who defuses land mines was then about three minutes. But I kept following behind the lines, and I never even got shot at." The Army took him out of the defusing business and put him in Paris, where he stayed until 1946. Then he came home, worked at radio stations and studied at the University of Cincinnati on the GI bill. After graduation, he began writing full-time and never stopped.

"The Waltons," on which he serves as executive story consultant, recently won a Peabody Award and has been renewed by CBS for a second season.

It represents the apex of a long, hard career for Hamner, who is happily married, has two healthy teen-agers and two California homes—one in Studio City, the other near the ocean at Laguna Beach.

Baby Sitter Gets Shock

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Cleveland widow on welfare got more than she bargained for when she advertised to baby-sit last month for two small children.

Mrs. Rosie Joiner said she advertised in an April 7 newspaper that she was available to care for two small children. Mrs. Joiner said that same afternoon a woman in her 20s brought over a 1-year-old boy and a 2-year-old girl and said she would pick the children up three days later.

The woman never returned. Mrs. Joiner said she was unable to get in touch with the woman so she took care of the children until last Saturday when she called the Cuyahoga County welfare department.

The children were taken to the county receiving home.

"I just don't understand a mother who would just go off and not come back," Mrs. Joiner said. "I just don't understand it."
